

A Visit to the Library

New words are dark black and you can see the meanings on the next page.

George is in high school. He has to write a paper about the American Civil War for his history class. He gets some information from the internet. He also wants to go to the library to learn more.

George lives three blocks from the library. It is a small library, but it has a lot of books. The people who work there are very nice and help the patrons there. George asks the librarian for some books about the Civil War. She helps him find some books.

George checks out three different books about the Civil War. He begins doing research on the Civil War and writes his information in his notebook. After that, he types everything on the computer and prints it. On Monday, he gives the assignment to his teacher. The teacher gives him a good grade for it.
