

Goals and Dreams – Beginning English Week 1, Winter 2021

Charlotte: Sounding good, Nic! When did you start learning guitar?

Nic: I've been taking lessons for the past month. My goal at the end of this year is to be good enough to join a band.

Charlotte: I wish I could play something. It's my dream to be in a band! I regret not taking lessons when I was a kid.

Nic: Well, it's not too late to take lessons. You could start now.

Charlotte: I hope to one day. But I have started acting lessons, though.

Nic: Wow, you could be a famous movie star!

Charlotte: That would be my dream! But, more of a short-term goal, I'm trying to do some amateur theater so I'm hoping to be in a musical this year. And what about you? What's your dream career? Rock star?

Nic: Nah, this is probably more of a hobby. My real dream is to become a pilot.

Charlotte: Really? You're going to learn how to fly a plane?

Nic: Yeah, I've been taking some lessons and I'm hoping to get my recreational pilot's license soon, and after I've done enough hours, eventually get my private pilot's license.

Charlotte: Are you going to have your own plane?

Nic: Ah, I wish! It's probably a more realistic goal to fly someone else's plane.
